

No Matter Where We Go

By James J. McGhee IV

It's like acid in my heart, eating it alive, you wore the prom dress, you wore that priceless smile It's like noise in my sleep, my soul can't sleep you walked the stage, you walked the beach of sea isle
It's like tears from the lungs, I can't breathe
You worked so late so long, you loved too much too long

For what, for who, for this no matter what it is
For him, for us, for you
No matter where you go
Forever, for now, for better
No matter how fast how slow
It starts and ends with you
No matter where you go
No matter where we go

It's like burning the careless, naive and impatient, you would ask us to play, to come out with you It's like being crushed, my chest is caving in You used to walk the dogs, kiss the cats
It's like a vacuum inside, a void in despair
You believed in everyone, you were unprepared

For what, for who, for this
no matter what it is
For him, for us, for you
No matter where you go
Forever, for now, for better
No matter how fast how slow
It starts and ends with you

No matter where you go
No matter where we go

It's like hydraulics on the brain, a bitter taste of insane
You tried to talk, you tried to send a message
You were reaching for help, you had no one to blame...

No matter how fast how slow
It starts and ends with you
No matter where you go
No matter where we go
No matter how fast how slow...
