

Unfamiliar

By James J. McGhee IV

I used to buy her roses Roses red and blue
The mystery upon that love
A love I never knew I filled her heart with the tearful words Like baby I'm lovin' you but these tainted feelings I kept inside kept leaving me confused (x2) oh my heart, my soul seem broken broken and abused (x2)

"So I buried the words of a careless heart
never to return
along with all those recent thoughts
the ones of which we learn but certainly let's not forget the memories of the past
letting go is easy now
when you find the one, the last
letting go is easy now
with this Unfamiliar path(x3)"

I lay awake dreaming of you Never did I think Of finding something new A dream, I've dreamed a miracle
A life, I'm living appear as gold When inside it feels like so much more To taste, to feel, someone I adore Familiar feelings left unsure But with you it's new (x2)
It's so much more (x2)

"So I buried the words of a careless heart
never to return
along with all those recent thoughts
the ones of which we learn
letting go is easy now
when you find the one, the last
letting go is easy now
with this Unfamiliar path(x3)"

Never did I feel the way
The way I do today
I could die tomorrow
And die a happy man
But that's not gonna happen
And here I'll tell you why Because this girl and I, we got a plan

And it's never gonna die (x2)
Because this girl and I, we got a plan
And now I'm reaching for the sky (x2)

never to return
along with all those recent thoughts
the ones of which we learn
when you find the one, the last
letting go is easy now
with this Unfamiliar path(x3)"

Because this girl and I, we got a plan
Holdin hands walkin down this path (x2)
